The traveler asked the woman “please, would you bring me a little water in a jug? I need a drink. And while you’re at it would you bring me something to eat?” The widow answered I don’t have so much as a biscuit. I have a handful of flour and a little oil. I’m making my last meal for my son and me. After we eat it, We will die. “ The drought in the land had caused much hardship. Today the Virus is causing much hardship. Many of us are running out of essentials, some of us didn’t get a check, or may not get a check to tide us over. Some of us are living in areas where our evil rulers have put extra unnecessary burdens on us. Is there any hope? Should we be like the widow and eat our last meal and die? That is exactly wha the enemy, the destroyer wants you to do. I hope that is not your plan. God has a plan for your life, a plan to enjoy eternal life with you. I pray you find peace and a reason to fight to live. Life no matter how harsh on earth is priceless; it is worth living and fighting for.

A disabled 97 year old man locked away under quarantine, with no one to talk to, no computer, no books, and 1 channel on the TV said “I want to live to be 100” Wow he has nothing, he fought in WWII for our freedoms, and has lived thru many wars yet he still has hope and a dream. There are always answers, even when we can’t see them. God’s ways are far beyond your ways. The traveler told the widow “The jar of flour will not run out and the bottle of oil will not become empty before GOD sends rain on the land and ends this drought.” Thus for several years the widow and her son never ran out of food. God sometimes provides in the strangest ways. You could say she had too much oil. I’ll come back to the story of oil and how it applies today.

How important is the constitution of the United States during this lockdown? Brett Kavanaugh was asked a question by a senator, and the senator said “are you going to look it up in that little black book you carry around?” Supreme Court Justice Kavanaugh said I am, and that little black book I carry with me all the time is the Constriction of the United States. It is the law of the land. Very important that the Supreme Court justice of the United States know the law and follow it. It is also important to you. You have rights under the United States constitution, even if you don’t know what they are. 1st amendment = freedom of speech, 2nd amendment = right to bear arms. There are a lot of unemployed lawyers right now, I hope you are listening. Some of our evil governors have said it is against the law to say anything bad about the way they govern, so according to them I can’t use my first amendment to open my mouth. Some of them think that carrying guns in public is a violation of other people’s security, yet the 2nd amendment allows for this. Honest people who carry weapons in accordance with the state laws are some of the safest gun handlers out there. Many can hit a dime at 20ft, some can even hit a dime at 1000 yards. Some say we can’t peacefully protest when government is over ruling. Well that is well within the rights of the constitution. One governor was asked directly if they knew that they were in violation of the Bill of Rights. They replied I don't care; this is the way it is going to be. Almost like it is my way or the highway. Openly acknowledging that his orders were in violation of the Bill of Rights. I see a law suit on that one. Wow they all took an oath to uphold the constitution, and yet they don't think it is important enough to even acknowledge when challenged that they could be in violation of the oath and the constitution. A well know retired judge stated "there are a few governors that are walking a fine line in violating the US Constitution, and the Bill of Rights. They should be very careful, as they could be facing civil or criminal charges and find themselves behind bars. A judge said that, and they know more than most governors. One governor was even heard telling the law enforcement officers to take pictures of all the license plates and send each person a ticket for violating the stay at home orders. There is no doubt that the constitutional lawyers could have these governors behind bars if they wanted to follow up on these violations. Wait, some of those people work for essential organizations. How do you separate the ones who belong from the ones that don't? Especially since they are told to cower behind the camera and mail out the ticket. Lots of people in essential businesses actually have letters stating they are allowed to be on the road.

So We the People are being severely limited, and we are caught in the middle. We are not the only ones caught in the middle. I want to commend all the law enforcement officers who have publicly stated that they will not enforce certain laws that violate the constitution. Most sheriffs are elected, so they can be voted out of office just like the bad governors and mayors. Keep that in mind when you go to vote, how did the Sheriff respond. Did they stand up for your rights when you were being violated, or did they take the hard approach and back the mostly illegal laws imposed by the evil rulers. I understand that they have a fine line to walk by protecting the constitution, and often you as well as keeping order and peace. Most law enforcement officers are careful to walk that line. However, lately a few power grabbing officers are making the rest look bad. They are not above the law. Ignorance of the law even for Law Enforcement Officers is no excuse. Should you choose to obey your evil governors direction, and you are found to be in violation of the law, or in violation of the way you execute the law, you may find yourself behind bars faster than you can read someone their rights. There are lawyers and judges that will file and prosecute against you. Think that badge will protect you? Wrong, no one is above the law. Some law enforcement departments have been told by the courts to seize and exist, to stand down, that what they were doing was against the constitution, and that they could be held liable for their actions. Unfortunately Law Enforcement Officers in the United States have gotten a bad name. Some law enforcement has been targeting certain groups. This is called discrimination. Some crazy law enforcement officers have emptied the jails of hardened criminals, yet arrest people for walking their dog. How many police officers does it take to remove someone from a bus for not wearing a mask? Big law suit if some lawyer would step forward and take that case.

From the FBI, DOJ, Sheriffs, State and local police have all had more than a few bad apples to spoil the bunch. Sorry to say but these bad people in high places have caused much distrust in Law Enforcement Officials. Just the other day a Chief of Police was arrested for child pornography, using the power of his badge to commit crimes against children. So I commend those officers that are doing a tough job, they are trying to protect us and our rights. I expect to see several class action suits against governors and Law enforcement departments for wrongly enforcing illegal laws. Let's see 50 million people in 1 state, 10 million in another 8 million in a 3rd, the list goes on. This is a warning to be certain the laws you are enforcing are not in violation of the United States Constitution. To all you officers who are uncertain, is it worth losing your badge, your pension, and maybe end up behind bars? Remember the warning didn't really come from me, but from a retired well known judge who has called out states by name for violation of the US Constitution.

I love the fact that some departments are actually taking the oath they took seriously. I will do everything within my power to make their job easier, to encourage and promote them. All of the front line people that are working to keep us safe deserve our support and respect; I hope you give it to them. In return We The People who pay their salary also deserve their respect. It would be fantastic if during this time of trials more Law Enforcement departments would remember that at one point they were to protect and to serve, not to Enforce ridiculous laws. Power goes to people's heads. Evil Governors, Mayors and Law Enforcement, and they want to control you. If I wanted to be controlled I'd move to China where they tell me what to do, how to do it, and when to do it and I don't even have to think. For all those evil and ridiculous laws and restrictions I'm calling on you lawyers to sue them. Free We the People from these tyrants.

Crazy laws and how they drive us to insanity. I love our veterans; they gave us the freedoms we may have to fight for again. Maybe not with bullets, but in the courts. I hope not. Once people get power they want more and often as we have already seen overstep their authority. In support of all the military, the first responders, police and fire, the people who work at hospitals, the ambulance drivers, and even the people who build vehicles to support these first responders I'd love to fly an American flag as outlined in the Laws of the United States of America. In my state it is against the law to buy an American flag. So the United States Law grants me permission, but the state law says it is against the law to buy one. OK, I have a 48 star flag from WWII I can fly that. Well I could, but the Law that allows me to fly a flag states that flag is no longer valid to fly. Some Law Enforcement Officer practicing the legality of the law vs. the spirit of the law could now arrest me for flying the wrong flag. Charge me, and maybe even throw me in jail. I know I'll go borrow one from my friend's boat. Well first off that would be in violation of the stay at home rules, which most likely is in violation of the US constitution. Second that would be in violation of getting on a boat in our state. So the crazy orders issued by our Governor have taken away my right as granted by the Law of the land to fly a flag. Maybe I should go walk the dog? Oh wait... I better check and see if I'll get arrested for that. I heard it is now legal to smoke grass, but illegal to mow grass. What is a person to do? I don't know about you but as a law abiding citizen I'm sticking with the US constitution, the Amendments, and the Bill of Rights. As far as bad governors go, I'll continue to pray they get a brain, or get overturned and removed from power by vote or divine intervention. Maybe I should go back in time to 1939, move to Kansas and ask Dorothy to take care of our evil rulers. President Trump has a face to face meeting with one of those evil governors today, maybe he will meet scarecrow while he is at the White House. Or maybe AG Barr will give him a copy of the US constitution and point out areas he should study? One can only hope and pray that evil changes it's way.

I promised you I would talk about oil, too much oil. In 2019 the US became oil and gas independent. They no longer needed to import oil or gas from other countries, but produced enough to sustain and actually export oil. We had the capability to do this for years, but people in power wanted to keep that power. Give me control of countries oil and I will control the country – Rockefeller. Give me control of the food and I will control the people – unknown. So how does the worldwide oil supply work? If a country outside the US wanted to buy oil, they had to use petro-dollars. So they would take their currency, convert it to petro-dollars and then purchase the oil they needed using petro-dollars. Yes, petro-dollars are tied to the US Dollar. Now a days it is all electronic, but it used to be paper transactions. So everyone had to buy oil via petro-dollars. Enter the BRIC countries: Brazil, Russia, India, China who decided to start selling oil between themselves and to others, circumventing the Petro-Dollar. Bad news for the US as it affected the US economy. Middle Eastern oil was to some degree sanctioned, so it was more black market then actual open market to buy. The BRIC countries tried all sorts of things to crash the market and the US economy. China had a sweet deal where you could trade oil for gold. Well most of that gold came from the US, as former administrations were distributing US gold to China. Yep, the US got cheated on that deal too. That is another story. Israel has large untapped oil reserves that have not entered the equation yet. . Enter the Corona Virus which we now know was an attempt to crash the US economy, the crash of the world economy was a side benefit, which would allow powerful evil people to rule the world. The Virus failed. I know people died, many of you have lost loved ones and other things, but the Virus did not wipe out huge amounts of the population, but did drastically affect the economy. I'm sorry for those that have lost loved ones. I'm right there with you. Only God gives us peace for those we have lost. We still miss them.

Someone asked are we entering the end times as described in the Bible? Wow powerful question. Many areas of the Bible are lining up and we could easily be entering the end times. I hope to do an entire segment on how today's news is lining up with the Bible. Now I think it is more important to give you some idea of how I see things unfolding. I have no idea if I'm right, is the glass half full or half empty? Here is what I do know happened with oil. In March President Trump asked congress for money to purchase oil to fill the US reserve tanks. We have lots of huge tanks to store oil in, and the President wanted them full in case of an emergency. Congress said no. Is there a tie between oil and stocks? Well stock brokers say "NO WAY" yet as soon as oil went down, so did the stock market. Coincidence? With less people working/driving and factories running, the demand for oil has dropped. President Trump has been negotiating with several countries to reduce the total worldwide production. You can't just turn off the faucet, it takes time to wind down production. Yesterday for the first time in US history production exceeded demand. No one wanted oil, thus the price goes negative. Wait I just told you that the faucet is still on, and it will take some time to turn it off. Companies now have oil they need to get rid of. These companies are now paying the US government to take it off their hands. Yes, we are getting the National reserves filled up, and the US treasury is getting paid to take it off their hands. Wow that is weird, but it works in our favor. At some time in the future the demand will go back up. Just as shutting down production takes time, ramping back up takes time. So where is that oil demand going to come from? The US National reserves. So the US is still in a position to be oil independent. How does this affect the petro-dollar since the world revolves on the petro-dollar and the US Dollar is still the reserve currency? America first, then we start taking care of the world again. Sounds cruel, but in the past the US has taken care of all the other countries while ours went into the toilet. Look how bad our infrastructure is, look how many dollars that were tagged for infrastructure were illegally stolen and redirected. Several costal states come to mind. Bridges and trains to no where ring any bells. Dams and roads failing?

So the US has enough oil, Prices will rebound, and in the near future the US will own the oil market. Wow lots of changes for the benefit of America First.

What about food? First let me assure you there is enough food for the US citizens. It is the delivery mechanism that is currently broken and being modified. Also some evil governors are prohibiting certain production of food types; yes this is another power grab by power hungry people. Remember if they can control the food, they think they can control you! To them, food isn't important it's just another weapon to use against you! During WWII a very young boy tells a story. They had very little to eat. A stranger knocked on the door and asked for a meal. His father brought the stranger in and fed him the last of the family food, potatoes. The stranger left and now the family had nothing. The next day the boy's father felt led by God to go to a certain location near their home. He found a partially demolished warehouse. Inside he found a truck, and on that truck he found potatoes, lots and lots of them. The family now had enough food (potatoes) for themselves and many others for several months. God's resources are limitless. We never know how or when He will show up.

Due to a broken distribution system here are some sickening facts: 1 chicken egg farmer is destroying 750,000 eggs a week, millions of gallons of milk are being dumped each week, thousands of pounds of beef are waiting to be slaughtered, tons of onions and potatoes are being turned back into the soil. How do we fix it? Well control of the oil is a start, because now the US can set the price, and can set the production schedule for total output. There are also contracts in place for oil purchases, these contracts called futures must be adhered to, or companies incur steep charges. So the oil will start being used over time. I know I was talking about food, I didn't get off track. There are already procedures in place to help fix the distribution system. Food is being packaged for grocery stores vs large commercial use. Add to this that as we go back to work, and restaurants open, farmers will be able to once again deliver their products to their normal customers. Subsidies to farmers will help during this supply and demand balancing. Truckers are taking various routes to aid in equal distribution. Thank God for our truckers! Men and Women who are literally moving mountains, and working many hours to keep us supplied. With restaurants and truck stops being closed and food only available via drive thru, many truckers can't get their big rigs into takeout places. Some cities have set up a way for truckers to park and then order/pay while people volunteer to bring food from the fast food place to the trucker. Consider helping these mountain movers out. For the NYC cops that issued tickets to truckers for parking to get some rest, you should be ashamed of yourself. I'm surprised someone hasn't pulled your badge, but then there are all those corrupt cops that spoil it for the good Law Enforcement Officers.

Back to oil... I know all the financial idiots on Wall Street, the same ones that claim there is no tie between oil and the stock market are losing their minds, yelling and screaming the sky is falling, the sky is falling, the sky is falling. Well maybe if Dorothy's house comes crashing down, that would be true. The evil powerful people in the world are fighting against We the People of the United States of America, and I honestly believe we are winning. So the US has control of the oil, control of the food, The US treasury is gaining control of the US economy, and maybe the world economy. We have taken a defensive posture with military forces to protect our land from attack, just in case some other power grabbing group or country wants to try to take advantage of us. There is great hope that as the Virus passes we will emerge a much stronger and much better run country. Together in unity we can overcome all the evil that is against us.

What else is a major obstacle to making the United States successful again? Stop foreign invasion, foreign occupation, foreign insertion. All of these have quietly been going on for years. Last night President Trump announced that he was closing the boarder to all immigration. Wow, this is huge. While we are rebuilding from the Virus and putting people back to work, foreigners can't come in and steal our jobs. I had someone complain about the fact they are working the same amount of hours at half pay. I said you should be happy you are working. There are millions of Americans who are not working, they may not know where their next meal is coming from, and they may experience heavy financial losses. Some people will have no job or business to go back to. It is sad, but I honestly believe that after we overcome these giant mountains together, there will be great hope. It is just during the steep climb we lose site of the hope that is within reach.

I know for certain my hope lies in heaven for eternity. The rest of all that is going on here on earth is just a few speed bumps along the way. I'm right here with all of you.

I look up to the mountains; does my strength come from mountains? No, my strength comes from God, who made heaven, and earth, and the mountains. He won't let you stumble. Jesus says "I know them, and they follow me. I give them real and eternal life. They are protected from the Destroyer for good. No one can steal them from out of my hand."

Do you know you have the protection of Jesus from the Destroyer? Ask Jesus to forgive your faults, ask him to be your protector and provider for all eternity. Find Peace amidst all the turmoil on earth.

Let me pray with you,

Lord Jesus thank you for paying for our faults, for protecting us from those who can destroy us for all eternity Thank for giving us food, shelter, family and friends on earth that help us and give us hope. May we focus on your abundant resources and see your hand working in our lives. May the evil people around us be found out, may their evil deeds be placed out in the open for all to see. Bring us fair and righteous leaders who care more about people than they do about their personal agenda. Teach us to work with each other, to support each other in unity and to love one another as you have loved us.

This day is the beginning of new life for all of us. Life is precious. It doesn't matter if we are 2 or 100 each of us is unique and precious to you. May we be a blessing to you as you have offered to be a blessing to us. In Jesus Name amen.
